Detective Recognizes Molly Parker's Picture in Newspapers and Arrests Her.

Molly Parker, who was found waldering on Fifth Avenue, Jan. 19, apparently suffering from amnesia, and vho was subjected to ether treatment in Flower Hospital in an effort to earn her identity, was arraigned before Magistrate Breen in the Yorkville Police Court to-day as a fugitive rom justice.

Detective Dougherty of the Second Branch Bureau told the Magistrate he had noticed a picture of the young woman in a newspaper before she was dentified; that in it he saw a resemblance to a girl wanted for larceny in Plainfield, Conn., and that he caused her arrest. She then was re-manded to the Tombs to await ex-

Paintings and Sculptures by Two Artists

Drawings of Jules Pascin and pieces of sculpture by Edith Woodman Burroughs were simultaneously put on exhibition at the galleries of the Berlin Photographic Company, Jan. 10, where both exhibits will remain until Feb. 20.

Jules Pascin was representated in the never-to-be-forgotten international exhibition of modern art, here two years ago, when he showed twelve numbers. M. Pascin sits down to his easel as a joke. He paints in the same mood, so it is not surprising his products are also jokes.
